DESIGN INTENT:

The EquinoX Hybrid represents the latest iteration of the EquinoX series that combines the strengths of both previous releases. As with its predecessors, the driving force inside this ball is the innovative Solarion Asymmetric Core. The tri-cylindrical shape this core provides actually changes the dynamic properties of the ball as it travels down the lane. This phenomenon gives the bowler the utmost confidence that the ball will not over-skid, yet it will also retain more than enough energy for a dynamic finish. The cover chosen was the second version of Storm's patented Adhesion System, A2S Hybrid. The solid and pearl components of the cover create a perfect system that produces the most balanced EquinoX to date. A2S pushes oil absorption rates to the limit and creates a tackier than normal feel which ensures a reliable grip on the lane. Just enough traction in the oil paired with classic Storm backend shape...what's not to love?
